I'm sad but not surprised to hear this news. I found his twitter account and had the opportunity to follow him for some time. Some nice tweets along with his #gamer tag.... he's easy to be a fan of. My condolences to his family and friends. The raid came as fighting resumed in Mogadishu, the capital, after it had been mostly quiet for months since a previous attempt to break al-Shabab's self-imposed ban on negotiations collapsed. "They are over the whole capital now," said Col. Yusuf Garaar Aden, a spokesman for the Somali military. "Several areas are under our control now." Al-Shabab's military wing said that it had laid siege to parts of the capital on Thursday in a statement released online. It said it was responding to a Kenyan military operation in neighboring Somalia in which one of the group's leaders, Ahmed Abdi Godane, was killed in a drone strike in January. In an effort to save workers from occupational injuries, the Department of Labor issued new rules for future reporting. Tipped workers, like bartenders and housekeepers, who are exempted from overtime requirements are now required to record their hours and the pay they are making. Across the country and in these very tough economic times, the number of people applying for unemployment is on the rise. In New York state, the percentage of people getting unemployment benefits doubled from the end of 2009 to the end of 2010. For those thinking of filing for unemployment, know that the process can be difficult, and if you lose your job it may be your main source of income. The new age of technology is here. It has transformed our lives, changed how we work and is making many of us more efficient. On the other hand, it has also brought about new challenges. While technology has vastly improved work
